Making international employment law easier

The expertise of the world's best employment lawyers combined with the speed of AI

Delphius is a specialist knowledge platform for international employment law. By pairing regularly updated knowledge from in-country experts with smart, AI-powered search, Delphius provides instant answers to your employment law queries across 50+ jurisdictions. Developed by Ius Laboris and drawing on the expertise of the world's best employment lawyers, Delphius makes it easier for in-house legal and HR teams to manage workforces across multiple jurisdictions.

Quick, concise answers to day-to-day queries

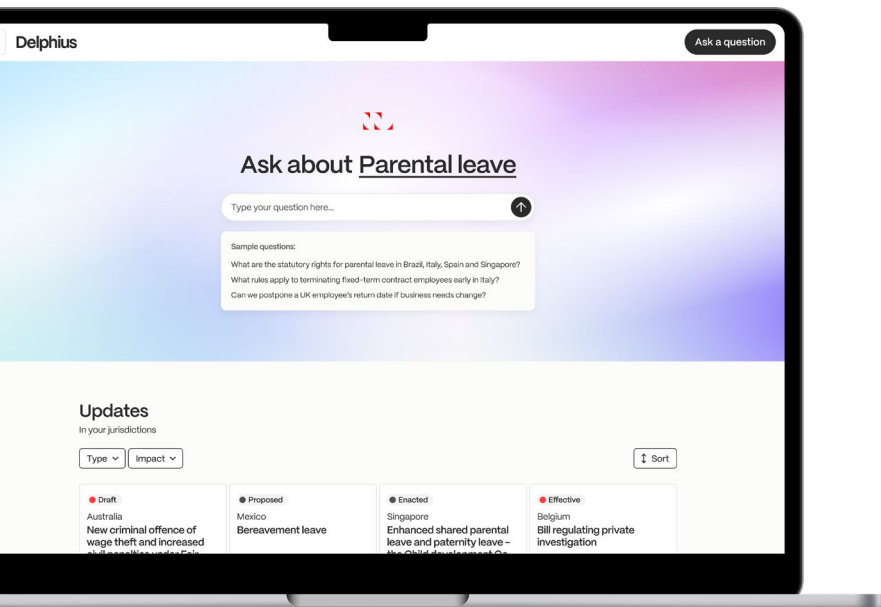

Whether you want to know about discrimination law in Hong Kong, collective dismissals in France and Italy or parental leave in Brazil, Delphius provides concise guidance on a wide range of topics. Export answers to Word, Outlook, PowerPoint and Excel, or ask follow-up questions if you want to drill down further. By making routine legal research more efficient, Delphius helps you save time, assess risk and focus your legal spend.

If you need specific guidance on something, you can easily connect with an expert lawyer via the platform; a history of your query will be shared to simplify the process.

Question

How do I conduct a redundancy project across France, Germany and Bulgaria?

"It's a go-to tool, something I use almost once a day. Sometimes multiple times a day. We're highly impressed with it."
